visual and performing arts,
writers and musicians

The 15th annual, University Heights Arts Open is a collaborative effort with the University Heights CDC Taste of University Heights. This collaborative effort means more of what University Heights has to offer: more fun, more food, more art! Stroll through the quaint neighborhood enjoying sample delicacies from some of University Heights diverse restaurants. Then, enjoy a free self guided tour of the arts. The UH Arts Open (UHAO) showcases new as well as celebrated artists, playwrights, performers and musicians from the San Diego region enlivening the historic University Heights community. The UHAO incorporates local businesses, schools, churches, theaters, and a free shuttle tour of artist studios in the area.

Presented by the UH Community Development Corporation and the University Heights Art Association, in partnership with the UH Community Association, El Cajon Blvd Business Improvement Association, Save our Heritage Organization and Diversions Theatre.

The UHAO is committed to broadening its artistic and cultural offerings to provide a diverse and exciting physical environment, enhance the quality of life, encourage dialogue and learning, and influence the area's economic growth.

A primary objective of the UHAO is to provide an affordable event for artists to showcase their works as well as offering a wide range of artistic expression, varied talent and cultural context for visitors.

A complimentary color program of the Taste and UHAO exhibits—including participating restaurants, open studio locations, and a walking/shuttle tour map is produced and available to visitors. The program includes a schedule listing times and locations of performances by local musicians and performers.

Free shuttle service will assist the visitors on their Taste and artist studio tour throughout the day.

Event programs will be available throughout the neighborhood, at the information booths, and online at www.UHarts.org.
